

SCREENINGS

HAMMER

My Name is Andrea

CO-PRESENTED BY THE UCLA CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF WOMEN | STREISAND CENTER

Pratibha Parmar's innovative documentary profiles the iconoclastic feminist writer Andrea Dworkin, who called out sexism and rape culture decades before the #MeToo movement. Parmar's hybrid film merges documentary footage with performances by Ashley Judd, Amandla Stenberg, Christine Lahti, and others. Followed by a Q&A with Parmar and Karen Tongson, chair of USC's Department of Gender & Sexuality Studies.

Admission is free. Seats are assigned on a first come, first served basis.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 7:30PM

HAMMER MUSEUM      UCLA
FREE ADMISSION
10899 Wilshire Boulevard,
Los Angeles, CA 90024
hammer.ucla.edu | 310-443-7020

UCLA College of Social Sciences

CSW
CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF WOMEN

BARBARA
STREISAND
CENTER

